DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the “air bag” (claims 7, 14) must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as “amended.” If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either “Replacement Sheet” or “New Sheet” pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. The claims include the use of the word “for” which indicates intended use. A claim containing a “recitation with respect to the manner in which a claimed apparatus is intended to be employed does not differentiate the claimed apparatus from a prior art apparatus” if the prior art apparatus teaches all the structural limitations of the claim. Ex parte Masham, 2 USPQ2d 1647 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 1987).

If Applicant(s) desire to give the phrase patentable weight, the Examiner respectfully recommends Applicant(s) remove “for” from the phrase where intended use is not desired.

4. Claims 1-4, 6, 8-11, 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Dysarz 4,886,288.

Dysarz discloses an adjustable seating height wheelchair, comprising:
wheelchair frame 102 providing structural support the wheelchair;
a plurality of wheels 107,108, attached to the frame, for allowing the wheelchair to roll; a seating surface 135, for providing a seat the user for wheelchair; and an adjustable seating height mechanism, mechanically moving the seating surface between at least two height levels, the adjustable seating height mechanism including:
a pneumatic cylinder device 101 which may be extended and retracted under pneumatic pressure, the pneumatic device coupled to the adjustable seating height mechanism such that when extended, the pneumatic device raises the adjustable seating height mechanism to one of the at least two height levels, and when retracted, lowers the adjustable seating height mechanism to another of the at least two seating height levels, a pneumatic storage tank 56 (see Fig. 17), coupled to the pneumatic device, for storing a gaseous fluid under pressure and providing pressurized gaseous fluid to the pneumatic device to extend the pneumatic device, and a control valve 121, coupled to the pneumatic storage tank and the pneumatic device, for controlling the flow of the gaseous fluid under pressure to and from the pneumatic device such that when actuated, the pneumatic device may be controllably extended and retracted;

Art Unit: 3611

a fill valve, coupled to the pneumatic storage tank, allowing the pneumatic storage tank to be periodically recharged; at least one locking pin 66, coupled to the adjustable seating height mechanism, for locking the adjustable seating height mechanism at at least one of the two seating height levels; and a pump 58, mounted to the wheelchair.

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 7 and 14 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Dysarz '288 in view of Finch et al.

Art Unit: 3611

Dysarz discloses the claimed invention except the pneumatic device does not comprise an air bag.

It is known in the art, as shown by Finch et al., to use an air bag 15 as a lift device for an wheelchair, the two being art recognized equivalents.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Dysarz by using an air bag in place of a pneumatic cylinder, the two being art recognized equivalents.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claim 5 and 12 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The cited references disclose wheelchairs with lift systems.
